

WE NOMINATE

Joseph Rock Nini, one of the outstanding municipal administrators in the mushrooming State of New Jersey, who this week rounds out two decades of dedicated service to 132-year-old Princeton Township. It was on September 15, 1950, that this native of Princeton—a graduate of Princeton High School, a member of Princeton University's Class of 1917 and an Army Air Force veteran of World War II—was named Assistant Clerk of the Township, a position created by a 3-member Township Committee in the belief that a once-agrarian municipality could no longer hope to stave off the impact of an unprecedented population explosion with a creaking, and myopic, one-man government.

Year by year, with the Township emerging as the dominant force in Borough-Township relationships, Nini's job has changed tremendously and, in the eyes of a veteran observer, "as the position grew, he grew with it." In 1951 Nini was appointed Township Clerk and Treasurer; some five years later, during the administration of Mayor John H. Wallace Jr., father of present-day Mayor John D. Wallace, he was designated chief administrative officer of the Township with jurisdiction over all Township operations with the exception of the police department, and roads and engineering.

In 1961, after the 1960 Census had confirmed that the Township's population had doubled in a decade and the "Township Fathers" had recognized "light industry" by establishing a sector zoned for engineering and research, Nini, now 45, was installed in the newly-created office of Administrator of the Township. In this post, in close and continuing consultation with the departmental heads involved, he is responsible for personnel, administrative procedures and policy, purchasing, communications, public relations, contract negotiation, financial procedures and policy, and the preparation of the Township budget.

While Nini is the Township official "ever on the firing line"—the individual who fields the daily citizen phone calls, the complaints and queries as well as the demands that "something must be done NOW"

—won't always place first in popularity polls, there can be no question about his devotion, perseverance and competence. Currently serving on the new Regional Planning Board as a Township citizen, he is a member of the "old" Township Planning Board (gradually being phased out as it completes work on the Township's revised Zoning Ordinance) and attends all sessions of both the Township Committee and the Joint Sewer Operating Committee.

Founding president of the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club and active in a wide variety of community service ventures, Nini ever since his return from World War II has made time for strengthening his grasp of local, county and state government. As pleased as he was a week ago with the presentation of a gold-wrapped putter by a grateful Township Committee, he can point with quiet pride to his record of study at Rutgers and Rider, his role in state-wide professional associations and his well-deserved recognition as a "resource person" by the Bureau of Government Research at Rutgers.

For meriting this accolade from a senior Township official: "We couldn't run the town without Joe," for ranking among what the working press calls the "most knowledgeable and smartest" municipal officials; for his contributions, many of them unsung, to the advancement of sound government; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as

TOWER TO BE RE-HEARD

On October 10, by another close vote (5-5), the Princeton Regional Planning Board voted Tuesday night to re-consider the whole question of the 11 story Tower office building on Mt. Lucas Road.

The first close vote (5-4) on August 4 was a "no," denying Collins, Uhl, Housington and Anderson permission to construct the building. Attorneys for the firm then asked the Planning Board to re-consider. They also filed an appeal with Township Committee, but Committee has been waiting to see which way Planning Board members would jump.

Board attorney William Miller has ruled that re-consideration, in fact, is re-hearing. It will be held in Borough Hall at a special Planning Board meeting on Tuesday, October 20, at 8 p.m.

How They Voted. Tuesday night's voting revealed publicly for the first time how board members who were absent for the August 4 tally might have voted.

Township Mayor John D. Wallace and Gerald Brees voted "no" on re-consideration. Norman Williams and T. B. Fisher voted "yes." Mr. Fisher had already indicated, through letters to the press, that he thought the Tower should be approved.

Others voting in favor of re-considering were Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, Joseph E. Nini, William Sitten and William H. Walker II. They were the minority of four, voted down on August 4.

Others voting against re-consideration were James Andrews, Bryan V. Moore and K. Sander. Absent on Tuesday were Arthur P. Morgan and James Floyd. They had joined Messrs. Sander, Moore and Andrews to carry the day on August 4. If they had been present Tuesday night, the vote to reconsider would probably have swung the other way.

Experience has shown, however, that it's risky to predict a Tower vote: the August 5-4 rejection came unexpectedly after Mr. Miller had prepared a "ludicrous majority" report that reversed itself to become a minority report when members changed their minds.

Why They Voted. Mr. Fisher made the motion to reconsider and Mayor Cawley seconded him. "The Planning Board should re-examine this case and verify just where we do stand," Mr. Fisher stated. "It was a close and questionable decision."

"But you could go on and on, re-voting!" exclaimed Mayor Wallace. He emphasized the importance of the Tower as a public question and urged that Township Committee fully expects to hear the whole thing on appeal, either way the vote goes.

He suggested also that "Committee can't just overturn the Planning Board because it doesn't happen to like the decision." Mayor Cawley agreed that the board's decision would indeed affect Township Committee.

Mr. Andrews was another who pointed out that "we'll lay ourselves open to continuing requests for re-hearing."

Only one of the 14 members were present August 4, but Mr.

COOL CASH: A check for $900 went into the Princeton Hospital air conditioning fund when Mrs. James J. Whelan of the Women's Auxiliary gave the Auxiliary's share from the 1,000 automobile raffle tickets sold in conjunction with the Dew Jones Open golf tournament. George W. Conover, hospital president, received the donation.

Andrews stated that so long as a legal quorum is present, "It is the full board, regardless of how many or how few are here."

Another Office. Earlier, the board approved site plans submitted by J. Robert Hillier, architect, for a three story office building on the corner of Hulfish and Witherspoon. The land is on the south side of Hulfish, toward Nassau, and is now occupied by a small service station.

Dr. Nathan Kasriel and Dr. Charles D. Allen, optometrists are buying the small, L-shaped lot from Mrs. Elizabeth F. Blasco. The two doctors have drawn the building at Nassau and Tulane now being remodelled for Princeton Savings and Loan.

The United Fund Story

A four-page report from the United Fund, detailing its numerous services through member agencies to the greater Princeton area, is a part of this issue of TOWN TOPICS. It provides in easy-to-read fashion facts on just where the dollars are needed, and why many of our support is essential to its success. See pages 27 to 30.

The street corner will be a sunken plaza, landscaped, fitted with benches and surrounded by a wall 18 inches high at sidewalk level, and three feet high down in the plaza.

The building will be in the arm of the L that goes behind the "Jeffries" Artistic Hair dressers' building on Witherspoon and the Palmer Square Inc., power plant. B-side the lot is under 5,000 square feet, there are no parking or off street loading requirements under Borough ordinance. There are also no setback or side yard requirements.

The first floor will be set back four feet from the lot line, leaving eight feet of sidewalk space on Hulfish, Mr. Hillier explained. Access to the rear of the Jeffries building is provided.

William Baggett, counsel for the two doctors, told the Planning Board the building would contain a maximum of six small offices, probably for professionals like Dr. Kasriel and Dr. Allen. Stores might occupy the ground floor, he said.

Board member Williams sided cautiously. "When the Borough's new zoning ordinance was passed, we said well, there's no more room for any other office buildings, and here we are..."

And Another? R. Daley Cook presented plans for subdividing his 30 "Thicket" acres on North Harrison and Terhune into five five acre plots. That's the minimum in the Township's Office Research zone, where the land lies. (This was former U.S. Post Office territory.)

Mr. Cook told the board he has no buyers yet, but most of the queries have been from people who want "general office space," not research. He said he expected several tenants, rather than a single large one. He will need a zoning change for the lot (the Post Office lot) which has only 313 feet average minimum width instead of the required 330 feet. Decision was held over for executive session.

Last Wednesday, at its regular meeting, the Planning Board approved site plans for changing the University Store. The parking lot across University Place from the store has enough parking even for customers of an expanded textbook section, the board decided.

ONE BOARD OF HEALTH?

Study Recommendations - A consolidated local health district combining the Borough, the Township and West Windsor would benefit all three municipalities, says a report from the League of Women Voters now under study by the three governments.

Next Thursday, Township Mayor John D. Wallace and Committee member Thomas Hartmann will drop in on the Township's Board of Health 8 p.m. public meeting to talk it over with the board.

Township Committee unanimously passed a resolution last week supporting the League's findings.

In the Borough, Mayor and Council have received copies of the report but haven't discussed it yet. The study was mailed by the League to all board of health and governing body members.

Reasons. Why a consolidated health district and a single board?

In the first place, state legislation ($291) effective July 1 makes it much easier to set up a consolidated board of health than it was before.

More fundamentally, the League thinks that a single department covering the three municipalities and administering uniform health ordinances could handle present health matters more efficiently and any would be in a better position to deal with future problems.

Also, a single department could be more effective in relations with big institutions like Princeton Hospital, the courts, schools, the state department of Health, and so on.
On a broad scale, community-wide planning could be done, on a smaller scale, there wouldn't be so much duplication of paper work. Education in drug addiction and venereal disease could be a new project; for example, there is no public health education in these two fields in any of the three municipalities.
And there would be a saving of time, energy and funds in the preparation of vital statistics for state agencies and the hospital.
Cash. What about money? Under state law, the budget of the single health department would have to be apportioned among the three governments according to their share of the total equalized assessed valuation.

At present, the Township has almost 50% of the $389,030,006 total; the Borough has 27.8% and West Windsor 22.1%. This would mean a decrease of .0054% in the Borough's municipal budget, with increases for the Township of .0037% and for West Windsor, of .0020%.

In dollar terms, the Borough's health department costs would go down by $4,299; the Township's would rise by $3,223 and West Windsor's would rise by $1,026.

However, if there were a new, larger single district, Princeton Township would be eligible for state aid, which it isn't at present. State law says a municipality must have at least 25,000 people before it can qualify for state money, and the Township has only a about half this figure.

A town can still get state money if it had a certified health officer before the cut-off year of 1960, so the Borough with a population of only 13,000 qualifies for state aid. (The Township didn't have a certified health officer until later in the 60s.)

The way things are organized now, West Windsor buys health department services from the Borough and gets in under the Borough's umbrella to qualify for state money, too. Estimates for 1970 are $2,565 for West Windsor and $5,300 for the Borough.

The League also brought together some figures showing Borough Township health consolidation without West Windsor. Such a system would make the Township health budget increase even more, and the Borough's decrease by less. West Windsor would presumably buy health services, the way it does now.

Law Is New. The League has been studying the question and marking time for almost two years. On the municipal level, governing bodies especially in the Township — have felt for some time that health departments were in line for consolidation of some sort.

But machinery has been clumsy; a petition signed by 70% of the registered voters of each municipality, plus a referendum in each municipality had to take place before consolidation could be effected.

The new law says only that each town must adopt parallel municipal ordinances within a six month period.

The League's report also mentions three other ways health consolidation could be achieved. One is a Regional Health Commission for the three municipalities which would require resolutions by boards of health, presumably followed by contracts between the municipal governments; the other two concern two-way arrangements between Borough and Township only — a consolidated health district or a two-member regional health commission.

Mrs. Harold Sprout was chairman of the League Health Committee making the study and recommendation.

Princeton Borough, Princeton Township and West Windsor have about 34,000 people. "They form," says the League, "a single community sharing shopping facilities, hospital services, water supplies, railroad and other transportation; newspapers, postal facilities. All but a small portion of the area is in the same watershed. They are under much the same pressures from outside."

WALLET IS STOLEN

Miss Naus said that she had left her purse by her desk. She placed the time of the theft between 3 and 4:30 Monday afternoon.

Don't Rain on My Parade: (Rain on Theirs)

Of The Town

The line of march was altered slightly last Thursday night for the Borough's new parade ordinance, and the ordinance was passed with three amendments.

The American Civil Liberties Union represented by Matland Jones of the Mercer County chapter, objected to a provision which would have allowed the Borough Administrator to deny a parade permit if he thought the parade "reasonably likely to provoke disorderly conduct or create a disturbance."

Mr. Jones suggested that such discriminatory power lodged in a single municipal official was "susceptible" to abuse. G.M. Smith observed that the American Legion whose spokesman, Henry J. Frank, had told Council the Legion was "wholeheartedly in favor" of the measure, might not be allowed to parade because its Memorial Day parade had in the past provoked some opposition.

In the end, that clause was crossed out of the ordinance altogether.

The second question was — how many parades in one day? The original ordinance said only one. But Council amended that clause so that a late coming organization can still get a parade permit, provided its line of march doesn't interfere with the first parade.

"We're hoping to avoid two conflicting demonstrations dead heading toward a major street intersection," explained Councilman James Andrews.

In the past, we've had adolescents from eight to 80 creating disturbances."

He added that Council hoped, through the ordinance, to avoid bringing police in to restore order.

A spokesman for the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom protested the requirement that "authorized and responsible heads" of the parade organization be listed. That section was amended to top off the "s" on "heads."

The WILPF also objected to the provision that application for a permit had to come 10 days before the parade. She reminded Council of the immediate reactions to the Cambodian situation last spring, and said, "An organization should have a right to dissent immediately." Mr. Andrews explained that 10 days was required in order to adjust the police duty roster.

Taxable? No. The tax-exempt status of Princeton University is not affected by the fact that the Movement for a New Congress and the Union for National Draft Opposition both have offices on campus, ruled Borough Attorney Gordon Griffin. Lowell F. Curran Sr. had questioned whether the University could still claim exempt status when such politically oriented groups were in residence.

Reading from a six-page opinion prepared for Council, Mr. Griffin said the American Council on Education had established guidelines which have been approved by the Internal Revenue Service. Mr. Griffin also quoted Princeton University's own guidelines. "TOWN TOPICS," August 6, 1974.

"These two organizations represent a use of the building for the purpose of the college," Mr. Griffin ruled. "They are a valuable part of today's educational experience and reflect the expanding and changing role of education." He also said he believed the courts would uphold the tax exemption.

Park and Pay. "It's not a real solution to the parking problem and probably won't help business," declared Councilman Robert Hendry, casting the lone "no" vote against the new one-hour meters for the south side of Nassau. Current meters have been half-hour.

But the parking meters, scheduled for lower University Place may expire before they are ever installed. S.C. Reynolds Jr., 185 Terhune, waved before Council an informal survey showing that 65% of those questioned won't use the Penn Central "dinky" if the 50-a-day meters are installed.

Mr. Reynolds suggested daily that the Penn Central might pull the dinky out altogether if this happened, leaving Princeton's commuters eternally waiting on the platform.

Councilman Andrews told Mr. Reynolds and his associates that the Borough wanted to line up commuter parking space at the foot of University Place before Princeton University began its remodeling work there.

"Nobody came to protest the ordinance when we had out hearing," Councilman Charles Cornforth said in dismay.

Opposition has developed since the ordinance was passed in August. Mr. Reynolds explained.

Mayor Robert W. Cawley assured Mr. Reynolds that matters haven't yet been ordered and won't be until the University unveils detailed plans some time in October. He will keep the public informed, he said.
Reporting on the municipal incinerator's smoke and emission problems, Mr. Andrews used the phrase "still legal and still warred."

UNIVERSITY OPENS

For its 225 Year, Dr. Robert F. Goheen, President of Princeton University speaking at the opening exercises for Princeton's 225th year Sunday, reaffirmed his approval of the "Princeton Plan" for a two week recess preceding the November 1 elections. Some 1,800 persons, including numerous members of the Class of 1974 which includes 180 women students, were present for the occasion.

At the same time President Goheen cautioned that the University's traditional activities, instruction and scholarship should not be overlooked by students caught up in the problems of society.

And he urged that in place of anger, despair and violence as many of us as possible, both old and young, keep our heads, try to operate with due respect for others, and to take the long view.

The "Princeton Plan" will trade two weeks of normal vacation time (i.e., a curtailed Summer Recess, a cancelled Thanksgiving Recess, and a shortened Christmas Holiday) for a 14 day recess immediately before the Nov. 3 national election, to enable students who wish to do so to work for candidates of their own choosing. It has been met with both praise and criticism by educators, public officials and students across the country.

"To taking such an unusual step," Dr. Goheen said, "the University has not in my judgement, veered off course. It has simply rearranged its schedule to improve the opportunity for students and faculty to meet their obligations both as citizens and as scholars. There has been no reduction in time to be devoted to the University's main business of instruction and scholarship."

Bridge the Generation Gap in urging the incoming freshmen not to let the importance of the moment blind the University's normal function—the traditional areas of learning, extracurricular activity, close faculty-student relationships.

Dr. Goheen at the same time called for greater understanding among the generations.
"The times are indeed changing," he said, borrowing a line coined by a 1970 Princeton honorary degree recipient, Bob Dylan. "The greater the fully, then, for any of us to widen unnecessarily the generation gap the greater the need for mutual understanding."

"In these times when some are angry, some despairing and some ready to usher in a utopia by violent means, it seems to me more important than ever that as many of us as possible — both old and young — keep our heads, try to operate with due respect for others, and to take the long view," he cautioned.

Ain't wat we got!

Neither the weather or the forecasters have been able to claim consistency of late. The steady predictions of rain and drizzle for the first part of the week brought largely sunshine, which was pleasant enough despite the humidity.

Generally fair weather is expected to remain with us as summer draws to a close. Cooler air from the northwest will drop the thermometer more than a few degrees, with temperatures generally running below normal.

The older generations, the Princeton president said, should be "willing to re-examine many of our assumptions, not to resist change but to cause it is change, but instead to deal with young men and women with an unrelenting effort at understanding, to grant the possibility that they may be right or partly right on complex and sensitive issues; to recognize the youthful and ability of the new generation, and to admire their idealism and their energy."

PROGRESS REPORT

From Dr. Goheen on I.D.A. Lease. Slow progress is being made by the controversial Institute for Defense Analyses to moving out of the building owned by Princeton University. President Robert F. Goheen reported this week.

The building, located off Prospect Avenue, has been the target of student demonstrations for the past two years in protest over the government sponsored projects being carried on there. The last such action took place in May, and the defacement of the building which resulted remains in evidence.

Dr. Goheen's statement: "Some steps have been taken toward resolution of the issue of the lease of a University-owned building by the Institute for Defense Analyses for its Communications Research Division, although there has not yet been as much progress as I had hoped for."

"As you know, the University last May urged on I.D.A. whose lease of the building has about five years to run, that it would be in its interest, as well as the University's, for I.D.A. to terminate the lease as early as possible. In the course of the summer I have for an early decision."

"I have received a letter which emphasized the necessity which states that I.D.A. has looked into alternatives, in accordance with our agreement last May, has found suitable land elsewhere and has been negotiating with an architectural firm for the design of a new building. However, Mr. Alexander Flax, the President of I.D.A., had made it clear that the process takes time and that severe problems at funding must be resolved before any decision including a time schedule can be made. "Though the progress is slow the steps being taken are gratifying. I have reiterated strongly to the I.D.A. management my view that the earliest possible termination of the lease will be in our mutual interest."

Eight-Foot Fence Planned. The Institute this week notified residents in the Prospect Avenue area that it plans to erect an eight-foot cyclone fence around its building. Deputy Director Lee Newirth said the decision was reached after the bombing in July of a government-sponsored computer center at the University of Wisconsin in Madison.

The fence will be topped with barbed wire, with the intent of preventing further violence. The Institute comments that "it is not aimed at any particular group or organization, but rather at anyone who might attempt illegal and violent action against us."

Expectations are that I.D.A. will be able to move to its new location by 1972. A 17,000 square foot complex is planned at a site within the Princeton area not yet identified.

FORRESTAL SHUT DOWN

By Early Morning Fire. Princeton University's Forrestal Research Center and the Plasma Physics Laboratory were both expected to be back in action at the end of the week, after separate electrical fires forced them to shut down two days apart last week.

Firemen were called to the Route One campus at 8:10 Thursday morning to battle the first fire, which started in a

An electrical failure caused the first according to Dr. Frank C. Shoemaker, associate director of the Princeton Pennsylvania accelerator. "The actual money damage from the fire is very slight," he added.

Saturday night at 8 p.m. a second electrical failure caused a small fire in the Plasma Physics Building, located on another part of the complex.

TWO ARRESTS MADE

In Copper Pipe Thefts. Rich and Lockhart, 23, of Trenton, was arrested Saturday and Nicholas Foxworth, 25, 145 Witherspoon Street, was arrested Friday in connection with separate thefts on Witherspoon Street of copper drain pipes.

Lockhart is in Mercer County Jail in lieu of $500 bail; Foxworth was released in his own recognizance. Both are scheduled to appear in Borough court on October 7 to answer charges of larceny.

Lockhart was charged with allegedly taking part in the theft of five copper drain pipes from the Youth Center, Green and Witherspoon Streets. Patrolmen Arthur Jackson, Ronald Holliday, Robert Muciar, and Kerry Klink rushed to the scene after a passing motorist called police at 10:23 Thursday night, saying he had observed some persons pulling down the drains. All had fled by the time police arrived.

News Of The THEATRES

McCARTER HAS PREMIERE
Of New Play: "Caesar at the Rubicon," a new play by Theodore H. White, will be given its world premiere by the repertory company of McCarter Theatre on February 12.

Arthur W. Luthgens, announcing the event said he is already at work on staging plays, in cooperation with the author.

Mr. White is the author of the "Making of a President" series and has won awards not only for that series, but also for such television documentaries as "China Roots of Violence."

Discussing his play, Mr. White has said that it presents quite a different Caesar from the man portrayed by Shaw, Shakespeare or Wilder. It is Caesar as a man of politics whom the author presents. Other plays in McCarter's repertory for the 1970-71 season, are "All My Sons" by Arthur Miller; "A Raisin in the Sun" by Lorraine Hansberry; "The Showoff" by George Kelly; "Little Murders" by Michael Feiffer; "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde and "The Homecoming" by Harold Pinter.

"TOM JONES" IS BACK
One Night Only: "Tom Jones," which critics called a "way out, wall-eyed, wonder ful extravaganza in cinema" when it appeared in 1963, will come back for a one night showing at the Playhouse on Tuesday, October 13 at 8:30 p.m. The Princeton Historical Society will benefit.

Tickets may be purchased in advance at Bainbridge House, the Society's headquarters at 158 Nassau Street, or at the Playhouse box office. The Society's annual dinner at the Nassau Inn will precede the film. Registration for the dinner should also be made at Bainbridge House.

FILMS FROM AFAR
"International Series." The Canadian film "Isabel" will open McCarter Theatre's International Film Series on Wednesday, October 7 at 8 p.m. Subscriptions for the full series are now on sale at the McCarter box office. Most showings will be on Tuesdays. "Zita," a 1968 French production with Joanna Shimkus in her first major role, will follow. Subsequent films will be "Paradjanov's "Shadows of Forgotten Ancestors" (Russia); Susumu Hani's "She and He" (Japan); and three from Great Britain: "Decline & Fall," adapted from the Waugh novel; Sidney Lumet's adaptation of "The Sea Gull"; and Richard Lester's "How I Won the War."

TWO 1967 HITS
In Film Festival "In the Heat of the Night" and "Cool Hand Luke" will be on view this weekend in McCarter's pre-season revival series. "In the Heat of the Night" will be shown at 7 and 9 p.m., this Friday, stars Sidney Poitier and Rod Taylor. The film won Best Picture, Best Screenplay and Best Actor awards in the 1967 Oscars. "Cool Hand Luke" features Paul Newman. It will be shown on Saturday at 7 and again at 9:15 p.m. Single admissions for both films will be on sale at the theatre from 10 a.m. the morning of the day of showing.

Garden Theatre Observes 50th Anniversary

Princeton had a movie house, the flourishing Arcade on Nassau Street (where the howling alley is now), when plans for the Garden Theatre were announced late in 1919. It was the era of Connie Talmadge in "The Love Expert" and Elsie Janis in "The Imp." There were showboats, such as "A Scream in the Night," and Will Rogers was around in "The Strange Boarder."

The Garden Theatre was promoted as "a modern moving picture theatre for which it was felt there is a great need." It would include a big stage for dramatic productions and no seats. It was, altogether, to be worthy competition for the Arcade.

Directors were Henry G. Duffield, Daniel F. Reardon, Caspar F. Goodrich, Walter H. C. J. S. Van Ness, C. R. Williams, Dr. Paul H. Ludington, William H. Sayen and George C. Wintering. The new theatre would open in the spring.

Public Help Sought. By spring 1920, however, when Princeton Savings Bank at 50 Nassau was offering a 3 per cent dividend ("A step for ward"), and Princeton Bank would arrange for residents' travel abroad, the new theatre at Nassau and Vandeventer was well behind schedule. Shipment of tile had been delayed. Subscriptions were slow and the books of the "Princeton Theatre Company" were opened to the public at $100 a share.

As the target date inched forward, Princeton bused it self soliciting donations to the hospital (two dozen eggs from Mrs. George Murray, a sauce pan from Miss Sarah Priest, six glasses of jelly and six cans of fruit from Mrs. J. Wright.)

There was a minstrel show in the Casino during Hospital Week, with Thomas Hagadorn coaching the entertainers and the Boswell twins emerging as the hit of the show. And a benefit pageant, "The Piped Piper of Hamelin," was held on Thompson Hall grounds.

French and Belgian relief were popular causes in those days and there was a big Hoover rally in Alexander Hall. Princeton High School's debating team triumphed over its Hightstown opponents, and Mayor Charles Brown received protests from 100 citizens when he ordered Daylight Saving observed. Prof. Henry Norris Russell told him he was being autocratic."

opening date. Plans had changed somewhat — due to the Triangle Club's decision to build its own theatre. The Garden would have a smaller stage, but a new organ and seats for 1,000.

During the months of delay, the Arcade flourished on, and Princeton turned to baseball. Following the University team under Bill Clarke, then the summer leagues in town. Trinity Church, under its bave-handed rector, Dr. Alfred B. Baker, developed a winning team of school boys who won 13 games and lost three in the Mercer County league under pitcher Earl Dancer.

There was a great fire in May of 1930, with Marquand Chapel and Dickinson Hall totally destroyed. On Decoration Day, the Municipal Band failed to show up for the first combined parade of the American Legion and the GAR. Someone forgot to notify the band of the change in parade time. Princeton High graduated 21 seniors, with James Augustus Cox giving the oration. St. Paul's School graduated nine children. A drive got under way for the "Tree of Life" backed by Health Officer William C. Blake.

"A Theatre for All." Garden Theatre directors remind the public several times over the summer that the theatre was planned for the whole community. Their aim this year was to distribute the stock widely "to make in this way a public movement."

Stock was on sale at the local banks, Baxes in the new theatre, they said, could be reserved in advance. "The theatre will fill a long felt need," they repeated.

As the summer wore on, the Garden slowly rising, the Legion carnival was a big success, with dancing and dancing at the corner of William and Olden Streets. St. Paul's held a lawn festival and the Municipal Band led the Firemen's Inspection, which featured two New York fire captains as speakers. The Old Fellows threw a watermelon party and Mayor Browne declared for Congress. September 1, 1930, was devoted to the trotting races on the track at the foot of Rayard Lane. Old-time favorites were Ben LaConda, owned by Harry Bergen and "Sam B. Sure," entered by the Renown brothers of Pennington. The Garden's opening was announced for September 10. Work is progressing on a ventilating system. The policy would be to give "complete entertainment" — a big feature, weekly, newsfeatures, travel and history films. Admision fees would be kept low.

At Last. Finally, on September 10, the Garden Theatre held a gala opening, its contractors working overtime. The show was Paramount-Civilian Clothes," starring handsome Thomas Meighan, who had reaped fame in "The Miracle Man." An estimated 1,500 attended, packing the theatre.

A full orchestra was in the pit, "pleasing everybody with their interpretation of the picture," the local editor reported. There were potted palms and ferns in the lobby. Baskets of flowers concealed the wall lights. General admision was 20c plus 2c war tax; balcony chairs were 30c and 3c war tax.

A week later, after careful consideration" by the management, prices were raised to 25c and 30c. Frank L. Warren was the first manager.

The Garden booked three films for its initial week. "Civilian Clothes" played Saturday, Monday and Tuesday. Boy actor Louis Sargent appeared in "Huckleberry Finn" on Wednesday and Thursday, followed by "Maurice." Tatum's great feature, "Treasure Island" Matinees were held Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. The theatre was closed on Sunday.

Dorothy Gish a Star. In the second week, the Garden showed Dorothy Dalton in "Half an Hour." Dorothy Gish in "Little Miss Rebellion" and Charles Ray in "A Village

IT'S NEW To Us

AMBLESIDE RAMBLES
For The Garden Fan. It's the time of year for pleasant drives into the countryside. When you head out Route 206 in search of interesting byways, you'll find an unusual garden market. Ambleside Gardens, about eight miles north of Princeton set well back from the highway.

Ambleside Gardens, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Townsend Scudder, is full of surprises. Imagine pine cones, looking for all the world like king-size pineapples, on your mantle during the fall, or settled into a dried flower arrangement. These huge cones are from the digger pines in the foot hills of California. They are part of the extraordinarily interesting variety of materials for arrangements that fall in to the area of Mrs. Scudder's department at Ambleside.

We saw pine cones as tiny as berries (30 for $1), beautiful, rose-like cones, from the cedar cedars, and shapes and sizes we never dreamed exist. The prices are reasonable.

To add to arrangements, Ambleside has Mexican "flowers," handmade from materials from the fields and woods into intriguing, stiff stemmed blooms. There are many dried flowers and "weeds," as well as driftwood in a wide range of sizes.

If you are planning ahead for fall color in your garden next year, Ambleside has a "heavenly bamboo," a plant that turns during August and keeps its leaves until late February. Plant it in the sun and enjoy the red leaves all through winter. Heavenly bamboo grows to be about 6 ft. high, and should be planted now.

Holly is always a reassuring green during winter, and Ambleside Gardens offers the penny holly plants. This grows like a bush and is a luxuriantly leaved, with its small, curled leaves tight together on each small branch. You may also want in experiment with Japanese skimmia — a red-berried plant that will grow outdoors in the shade, or indoors as a house plant. It has an attractive, shiny, oval leaf.

Birds And Buds. Martin houses at Ambleside range from 18-room mansions to six-room apartments. One is even constructed in a Victorian style. Prices are $20 up. There is also an amusing assortment of stuffed birds, colorful and some very realistic, for adding to indoor arrangements. Or, if you have a sunny window, bird shapes in stained glass that dangle from a long string — including an amber owl. And, speaking of owls, you will be intrigued by the Oolie Owls, quaint little stone birds with enormous eyes, perched in little groups on driftwood.

Indoor and outdoors, Ambleside is fun to explore. There's a population explosion going on among the frogs in its pond right now. You'll see a great many trees and bushes for planting, and mums of all colors and varieties, including the pointy-petal "spider" variety. The mum tubs are $1.50 each or three for $3.75.

Spring bulbs, to give your garden early beauty, are in such a plentiful offering at Ambleside Gardens that it is only possible to mention a few. The great help in planting is the color code that enables you to have a bulb blooming well through spring, from the early snowdrops and crocuses to the late tulips.

There's a very early iris to require about, so long that it belongs in the rock garden; and a curiosity to delight you — the "guinea hen" flower, which turns out little, upside down tulip shapes in speckled rose and white.

Among the small varieties, you'll see the waterily tulip; and the beautiful "Plaisir" — a two-tone red accented by a soft creamy stripe — and the bright red "Fussler" which

News Of The Theatres

Slouch ("Come and help on ravel the situation.")

Competing at the Arcade a few doors down where the films "May Allison in 'The Theater,' Thomas H. Ince's production "Dangerous Days," William Farnum in "The Orphan," and Billie Burke in "Away Goes Prudence."

The first benefit film at the Garden was held after Election day. "Who Were the Snobs" for the Salvage Committee of Princeton Hospital. The announcement said generously. "Users will look at her unaccompanied children." In 1928's theaters held contests with the students, rather than booking through competitive bidding. The Arcade seemed unbothered by its new competitor, perhaps because of the strong contracts held.

About the time that Finance Edgar Palmer was planning the Playhouse for Palmer Square Inc. (then Princeton Municipal Improvement, Inc.) he is said to have offered Fred Struy, $100,000 for the Arcade. Turned down, Mr. Palmer is reputed to have said, "One hundred thousand dollars is a lot of money. Mr. Struy?" "I know it is, Mr. Palmer. I have $100,000," was the reply.

PMI bought the Garden Theatre around 1930, according to Richard Knight, current manager of the Playhouse and Garden. And it also purchased the Arcade property at about the same time after Mr. Struy retired.

In the early days, the Garden box office stood alone on the sidewalk in front of the theatre. University students picked up the booth one day, ripped out the wires and walked it down the street. The cashier jumped for her life. Since then, the booth has been firmly nailed to the theatre.

Renovated from time to time, the Garden began to stay open on Sundays in October, 1961. But the big event came in 1964, when air conditioning was installed.

"We used to close the Garden in July and August," Man after Knight recalls.

DANCE!

Four Events Scheduled. Mc Carter Theatre is now selling subscriptions for the four dance events planned for the coming season. Single tickets will go on sale next Monday for the first date, which is the Martha Graham Dance Company on Sunday, October 11 at 3 p.m.

Other companies due at Mc Carter during the year are the Polish Marowicz dancers, January 26; Inbal, the National Theatre of Israel (February) on a date to be announced; and the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theatre in April.

GARDEN

The Sicilian Clan (now playing) it has been a long time since French actor Jean Ga bin went on a caper in a crime film, and the greatest pleasure this film offers is the chance to see him anxiously at work again on illegal activities. He's silver-haired now, and not quite so agile, perhaps, but his enigmatic face reflects a jaded outlook on life as eloquent as ever.

Opposite Gahin is handsome Alain Delon as the hood who makes an ingenious escape from a truck carting him to jail, thanks to Gahin. The latter is the Mafia chieftain living in Paris with his sons, in laws, and grandchildren. They work out an elaborate plan for a jewelry robbery to take place in Rome.

There's a plane hijacking, and a lady who almost gives the caper away. (In French, with English subtitles)

Patton: A Salute to a Rebel (now playing) George C. Scott's performance as General George S. Patton is a highly intelligent and entertaining tour de force.

Patton is depicted as a classical medieval proponent of combat as the ultimate and most satisfactory testing ground of heroism. He emerges as a rather romantic anachronism, even for 1940.

At a time when his military contemporaries, including General Omar Bradley, played by Karl Malden, view their task with a cool, logistical, no glorified experience, the always-controversial Patton leads his men into battle as knights entering the noble ring of the joust.

Scott's performance is irreverent, pompous, counterpointing brash theories with the character's frustration of preferring The Iliad to Stars and Stripes.

The film opens with a full frame tableau of the American flag. Patton strides across the frame, the flag is revealed as a backdrop to an auditorium stage as he proceeds to treat

SHOPPING AID OFFERED
By Red Barn Casuals. On Route 206, a short way north of AmbleSide Gardens in Belle Mead, is a small dress shop tucked away in a red barn that offers a nearly unique shopping service for this era.
Mrs. Kay Kontura of Red Barn Casuals has a knowing way about simply designed clothes of good fabric, and she has an accurate way of estimating her customers' tastes.

"When a woman tells me 'Kay, I'm in need of so-and-so,' I have a pretty good idea of the clothes she likes, his unseen audience of soldiers to a salty, locker-room pep talk. Patton is in North Africa and Rommel (played by Karl Vogler), is a few dunes away. The shot of Patton serving as traffic cop with tanks and truckloads of troops summarizes his genius—a sense of organization and tactics that brooked no interference, accompanied with by a sense of the outrageous. The film ignores the Hammelburg incident, when Patton risked the lives of several hundred Americans in an abortive effort to rescue his men-in-law from prison camp. But the film is lively enough without it.

IF YOU LIKE TOWN TOPICS, the best way to express your appreciation is to mention it to our advertisers.

and I find that she wants. It's no trouble. I think the customer is becoming tired of this "don't care" attitude of salespeople!"

Mrs. Kontura, however, is down on the midri dresses. Midri coats make sense to her, but not the dress. "I'm outraged by the midri coats," she says, "a smiling way. It's a style that's being pushed on the young women. We are very active people, we don't want to be cluttered up with all this nonsense."

So the Red Barn hasn't any midri dresses, but it does have dresses that are longer than minis, which is reassuring. But Mrs. Kontura is, at the moment, keen on pants suits.

"I have some pants suits that are out of this world," she says, and shows you some handsome two and three-piece suits. "I advocate pants because I think they look better than midis and they're comfortable. The Red Barn will show you in soft rust knit, a pants suit with a tailored top, and an eye-catching poncho in mingled rust, brown and beige, accented with black fringe. ($45.) Or, a pants suit with the California look, but made in Hong Kong of a boucle loom fabric. The cardigan has a V-neck and merry strips of fuscia and pink, the pants are fuscia."

There's a jersey knit in green, with a mid-length coat that is sleeveless. The coat is a marvelous patchwork of muted tones ranging from blue to green to purple. It's deeply sited at the sides.

The Red Barn has a tailored, four-piece walking suit and you can walk in either pants or skirts. The fabric is wool, like a melton cloth, in a mouthwatering shade of grape. The short coat is designed with a deeply notched collar and double-breasted front, the color is repeated in the edging of the white turtle-necked sweater. ($109; also in forest green.)

The Red Barn has a good sampling to show you, conservative gien plaid pants suits in green or blue tones; beautiful Borgana coats that look like seakins but don't endanger the species ($189); sheer wool casual dresses in ion dresses for Indian summer—long sleeves and geometric prints; and soft little dresses for cocktail time.

Young Looks. The younger set will find at the Red Barn the beautiful butterfly dresses designed by S. Yater of California. Most of the girls wear them over pants. The fabric is washable acrylic, and the choice of prints is unlimited.

For girls, also, pure wool dresses of soft lambswool and angora. Made with long sleeves in a heather tweed the color of which are separated into stripes in the bodice. ($22.98)

And if you find almost what you're looking for, just explain your ideas to Mrs. Kontura and be pleased. (Closed Monday days)

Mr. Kelly told police that he tained a contusion of the head when he swerved to avoid a car on Princeton Kingston ended up hitting a utility pole.

His car was a total loss.

Mr. Brakow told police that he was forced to swerve left was sticking out on the road at the exit to Carnegie Lake near the bus house. His car, nonetheless, struck the protruding car with its rear fender as it went by. Mr. Brakow then swerved to the right and ram-

The second car left the scene without stopping. Ptl. Orlando

Leading roles will be played by William Cook, John Cousins, Leona Chambers, Terry Steple, Howard Sweeney Jr., Lynette Campbell and Perry Owens. Also in the company are Charles Hughes, Harold Logan Jr., and Bryan Freeman. Ted Woods is resident designer.

Fred Garrett, general manager of the Negro Ensemble Company, will come to the Center on November 12 to discuss "Inside Black Theatre," and the Center's Hensberry Dance Company will give a concert on November 22.

December events include Ed Bullins and Whitman Maya of the New Lafayette Theatre Company on December 3; a Community Choir Concert on December 12 and another Workshop play, "Simply Heavenly" with music by Landell Hughes on December 18, 19 and 20.

RATE INCREASE ASKED

By N.J. Bell Telephone, New Jersey Bell Telephone Company has filed a schedule of increased rates with the State Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

The proposed increase is the first sought by the Company since 1958. It would raise an annual gross intrastate operating revenues by about $79 million or about 15 per cent. Net increase to the company after taxes, would be about $48 million.

Declaring the company was "having reluctantly to the forces of inflation," Robert W. Kleinert, president, said: "There comes a time when new technology and increased operating efficiency can no longer offset the higher costs of doing business."

The new schedule would increase the cost of individual line residence service by an average of 80 cents a month and individual line business service by an average of $1.85 a month. Increased charges for some intrastate toll calls and other services are also included in the filing.

Two Reductions Planned. In the filing, the company also is proposing two new service of ferries at lower than prevailing rates.

One is a special night rate which would permit a one minute call from a non coin phone anywhere in the state for 15 cents or less between the hours of 11 p.m. and 8 a.m. when no operator assistance is required. The other new offering is a special economy service which would provide residence customers with a limited basic monthly service for $4. The service is designed to meet the needs of customers who make only a few calls each month.

LET'S PLAN

Council to Meet on Policy. Concerned mostly about brush fires, with parking meters, liquor licenses and parades. Borough Council members find they don't have much time to sit and think.

Starting Monday September 28, Mayor Robert W. Cavies and Councilmen will hold private meetings. The fourth Monday in each month to discuss policies and perhaps think long range thoughts about the town.

"FORUM" TO MEET

... to Plan Its Future. The Open Forum of parents, teachers and young that met every two weeks all summer, will gather next Wednesday, September 24, at 8 p.m. in the Community Park School library to talk once again about Princeton's schools and to debate its own future.

Should the Forum continue is the question if so in what form. Everyone is invited to attend and to contribute ideas. High School students are sought particularly.

Mrs. Rosalind Frisch, who has been one of the Forum community leaders will propose smaller discussion groups held in people's homes.

Modeling her proposal on a series of living room gatherings in Scarsdale, New York, Mrs. Frisch suggests that smaller groups with the same people coming each time, committing themselves to the group are more fruitful than the loosely organized Open Forum, with its public school setting.

OFF AND RUNNING

In Borough, Campaign workers for Borough Democratic candidates Martin P. Lombardo and Joseph P. Moore were named this week. Co-chairmen of the campaign will be Archibald S. Alexander Jr., 61 Westcott Road, and John M. Fenlon, 24 Chestnut Street.

Other workers will be Miss Mary Porone, treasurer, Mrs. Jan Schneider, general campaign coordinator, Mrs. Susan Jones and Mrs. Lucy Scanlon, publicity; Mrs. Jane Henderson, volunteers; Sheldon Hackney, resources; Frederick Bohlen and Wilbert Brooks, issue development.

SHALLING ACCIDENT FATAL

To Farmer Princetonian. Mrs. Henry Chapin of Stonington, Conn. drowned September 8 in a sailing accident near her home.

The former Paula Van Dyke was the daughter of the late Rev. Henry Van Dyke whose home, "Avallon" stood for many years at the corner of Bayard Lane near the street which now bears its name. Mrs. Chapin, who was 71 years old, was born in New York City. She had lived in New Hope, Pa., for much of her life before moving to Stonington 17 years ago.

Mrs. Chapin is survived by her husband; a sister, Miss Elaine Van Dyke of Tucson, Ariz.; two daughters, Mrs. G. L. Rutherford of San Francisco and Mrs. L. Rust Hill of Stonington; a son, Anthony of Mystic, Conn., and eight grandchildren.

The funeral and interment were in Stonington.

Republican dignitaries invited as honored guests include Gov. William T. Cahill, Sen. Clifford P. Case, Republican Senatorial candidate Nelson Gross, and GOP Congressional candidate Edward Costigan.

PUBLIC INVITED, BUT . . .

(No Talking, Please!) Like an old fashioned schoolroom where nobody was allowed to talk except teacher, Room 62 at John Witherspoon School will be open to the public next Monday night (8:15) but no body can talk except members of the Princeton Regional School Board.

It's the first time the board has opened its agenda sessions to the public. Board members are polite, and use the word "invited" but they make it clear that they've got a lot of work to do and won't have time for debates with the audience. If you like to listen to people work, you're invited.

POLICE HAVE SUSPECT

In Student Robbery, Borough police have picked up a juvenile suspect in connection with the assault and robbery Sunday afternoon of a 15-year old Princeton area student as he was walking on Nassau Street near Nassau Hall. Lt. Michael Carnevale reported that Detective Timothy Hui-zing is continuing the investigation and that charges will probably be made against the juvenile.

According to police, the youth was beaten and robbed by four other youths as he was walking at 4:25 p.m. on the University side of Nassau Street. They fled after taking $4 and two packs of cigarettes from him.

Police said the victim did not require medical aid. He was able to give them a description of his attackers, but told police he did not know any of them.

ROSES AND RHUBARB
BY DON ALLEN
HOW DRY I AM...
Dried material, (weeds if you must) those native good pods and grasses that abound in New Jersey's bogs and marshes can be found in lush profusion at Allen's from now until Thanksgiving. We gather them ourselves, of course, sort of a fun thing that we've followed over the years. We turn up some interesting items too — in our travels anywhere from the salt marshes of Westcreek to the Knobby hills of North Jersey, it is the pine barrens of course — more specifically that area known as the plains region, that yields some of the more spectacular items.
Catspaw for instance, an orange fluff resembling a bunny's tail is carried on a slender stem. They tend to grow in bogged out cedar swamps through which course ancient century roads (logs laid out to form a road over the bogs). Floral butts grow there, coffee grass, carex and reed plumes also.
We have them all plus dozens of others.
If you're a decorator buff and like textures, try your hand at a fistful of these New Jersey treasures in an old brown jug for instance. Considering that these things grow wild, we sell them rather cheaply I think. So a stem for most items. As ever a dollar goes a long way at Allen's — always has — always will.
Proof of that statement is our flourishing $1.00 weekend flower specials, which have continued unabated all summer even though we've managed to refrain from shouting about it.
If you like to browse, that is fine with us. Our hospitality extends to buyers and browsers alike. Our famous bottomless pretzel barrel and more recently apple barrel are freely offered. Enjoy!
If world news get you depressed, come spend a little time refreshing your mind and spirit amid some of the truly natural beauty which yet exists in this world.
Remember, it's a pleasure to visit a well-run flower shop.

Arthur Jackson and Ronald Holliday, who allegedly observed him smoking a marijuana cigarette at Nassau and Witherspoon Streets. A subsequent search uncovered more marijuana in his possession, police said.
Two days earlier, he had been arrested by Borough police but was released when he posted $500 bail. At that time, he had been picked up by Sgt.

University proctors who had charged him with trespassing

As he was being searched,
Sgt. Bellows and Ptl. Timothy

"PUT NOT YOUR TRUST IN MONEY, BUT PUT YOUR MONEY IN TRUST"
—Oliver Wendell Holmes

Excellent advice. But incomplete.
There's no question that a trust can be a beneficial instrument.
But what kind of trust?
A living trust, for example, can help you avoid probate. It saves time, expense, and frustrations in waiting for an estate to be settled.
A testamentary trust is established under your will and provides financial management for your estate. It allows you to keep your principal intact, to skip generations, and to save inheritance tax.
A sprinkle trust is a type of testamentary trust predicated on the varying financial needs of your heirs. James, who is about to enter medical school, will obviously need greater assistance than Mary, who is married to a stockbroker.
A sprinkle trust recognizes their respective needs and provides accordingly.
There are all sorts of trusts for all sorts of needs. They can't be ordered out of a catalog because your own specific financial and personal circumstances dictate what kind of trust is best for you. If you want assistance, call the Financial Planning Department at 448-4900. We'll be happy to discuss your financial plans with you and your family lawyer.

SAVE Will Care for Strays.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I hope that by publishing this letter you can help me give assistance and recognition to the efforts of the Small Animal Veterinary Endowment (SAVE) of Princeton.

Recently I began caring for an injured stray cat which lived in my back yard. The cat needed continuous medication and when I moved to New York a few weeks ago, I was unable to bring him with me and his leg was still not healed.

A friend who tried to take over his care found him in curriable and eventually the police picked up the cat and took him to SAVE. There Mrs. Graves assumed responsibility for his care and of fered to place him when he is well.

I am very grateful to Mrs. Graves for this. However, as she pointed out, much difficulty could have been avoided had I contacted her organization initially. Ignorance or negligence can cause distrust for a pet and inconvenience to others. Mrs. Graves (especially those that involve animals who find a lost pet will contact her organization for assistance immediately.) Hopefully, you will be able to help inform others with this example.

Support For Bills Asked.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
May I respectfully call to the attention of TOWN TOPICS readers, bills on Trapping Control now pending before the New Jersey State Assembly. $706, $707, $708 and $709.

For a six cent stamp, you can help to stop one of the cruelest practices of man upon animals, and a menace to human life as well.

Now is the moment. These four companion bills are now in the Assembly Committee on Agriculture, Conservation and Natural Resources. Ask your New Jersey State representatives to insure that all four bills are passed out of Committee so that they may be passed by the Assembly and enacted into law. They were passed by the Senate in April of this year. Every letter counts.

Address them to: The Hon. William E. Schluter, The Hon. Karl Wedel, The Hon. Joseph P. Morin or The Hon. S. Howard Wondolm. New Jersey

Levi's Support the Schools.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
We are beginning another school year which we hope will be as fruitful for the children as recent years have been and much less arduous for adults. The letter is a plea to all to realize what has been accomplished in recent years to point and some problems that need attention and resolution and to urge cooperation, patience and restraint.

I speak as the former chairman of the 1961 long range study that led to the merger of the borough and township systems, as a board member of the earlier township system of the regional board, and have all as a parent of three children who have progressed through the school system since 1950, and one who is still in it.

I believe that on the whole we have a very good school system, one in which children of varying abilities and backgrounds can have ahead in a variety of areas, helped by kind and understanding teachers. The school system since 1950, and can be tailored to meet the needs of each child, in

At Princeton Adult School. Registration for Adult School classes, which begin next Thursday, September 24, may still be completed in person from 4:45 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Thursday, September 17, in the Princeton High School cafeteria. Prospective students are urged to register as soon as possible as classes are filling rapidly.

One of the more popular courses offered is a two-hour session on Chinese cooking given by Mrs. Yung-chi Chen. The course will cover preparation of dishes containing pork, beef, lamb, fish, chicken, duck as well as vegetable dishes, soups, pastries and desserts.

There will also be a full complement of language courses offered for the beginner and those with some previous training in Russian, Spanish, Italian, French, German and English. These courses are designed to continue through the Winter Term so that students may take a total of 20 two-hour sessions.

An Open House is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. this Thursday. At this time students can meet and speak with the instructors and find out more about the individual classes.

Topics for the opening night three lecture series will be at 8 p.m.: "Art Forms in Today's World," "The Continuity of Art History" by curator of art at the N.J. State Museum, Zoltan Boki. Mr. Boki has studied at the Academy of Fine Arts in Rome, Art Institute of Chicago, Wayne State, and Tulane University where he received his master's degree. Before coming to Trenton, he taught drawing, painting and anatomy and served as curator of art at the Arkansas Art Center where he co-founded the School of Art and Drama. Later he became director of the art gallery and chairman of the art department of Humboldt State College.

At 9 p.m. the "Exploring the New Feminism" series will open with: "The Politics of Male Female Relations," by Dr. Kathryn Baals of Princeton University. Dr. Baals was part of the first husband and wife team to receive doctorate degrees together at the University last spring. A graduate of Smith College, Dr. Baals received her master's degree also from the University where she will be an assistant professor in the fall.

"Spatial Environment," the third in the series, also meeting at 9 p.m., will feature Paul N. Ylvisaker speaking on "Land Use: Past, Present and Future." Dr. Ylvisaker, well known for his research and planning of public land in New Jersey, is professor of Public Affairs and Urban Planning at Princeton University.

"PRINCETON PLAN" OUT
For Rider College This Fall, Rider College has decided to discard the total pre-election shut down planned by Princeton University (known as the "Princeton Plan"), but will still allow students to miss classes to campaign for candidates during the final weeks before the November 3 general election.

According to a proposal, still up for approval by the faculty senate at Rider: "Students who wish to continue in the normal process of college must be afforded that right. Those students who wish to miss classes in order to work for candidates must also be given the right to do so." Students choosing to use this time for political activities will be obligated to complete all required course work.

Normal college policy on incomplete work is also reflected in the proposal, but students and professors can arrange assignments and attendance during the two week period before elections on an individual basis.

Though American colleges have traditionally avoided direct political involvement, this proposal has been endorsed by Rider's chapter of the Association of American University Professors.

Is Christian Science "mind over matter"?

No.

Many think that because Christian Science brings about physical healing without medication, it is a form of positive thinking or human willpower.

But Christian Science is based on the Bible teaching that it is God, the divine Mind, that heals — not the human mind — and that this was the basis of Christ Jesus' marvelous works.

Today anyone can gain a greater measure of dominion over matter by endeavoring to follow Jesus' example.

You are warmly invited to hear our Bible Lesson on "Matter" this Sunday

PHS Interior Line Is Solid But Ends, Center Question Marks

(This is the second of three articles on Princeton High School's football prospects for 1970.)

A capsule description of the Princeton High School line for the 1970 football season, strong at the guards and tackles, less solid at either end, center, a question mark.

Coach Dick Wood, starting his ninth year, predicts his Little Tigers will improve on last year's 3-5 record. In saying this, he no doubt expects to receive better performances from his offensive and defensive lines than he did last fall.

There was, to be fair, some justification for the subpar line play last year. The team started under two handicaps — neither of which will be present this season. First — and most damaging — defensive and line coach Tom Murray left to direct the Princeton University 150-pound team. His successor, Jim Beachell, a former PHS quarterback just out of college, had no coaching experience. In addition, another teacher who was supposed to join the staff never appeared.

As a result, only Wood and Beachell were available to coach the 55-man varsity squad. "We didn't do the job, I know we didn't. We just couldn't spend the time with each player that we wanted to," Wood remarked. "Perforce, he had to divide his time between the backfield, to which he usually devoted almost his full attention, and the line. The lack of coaching showed."

More Time for Practice. In addition, coupled with the thin coaching staff, there was little time to prepare for the opening game. Unlike this September, in which Wood has had a full week of double practice sessions before school started (schools are not allowed to start practice until September 1), there was no such time last fall. Also, a dispute between all PHS coaches and the school board over extra pay for extra services only added to the uncertainty at the start of the season.

This time, the situation is more stable. The varsity staff has been increased with the addition of Bill Cirullo and there are sufficient returning lettermen from which Wood and Beachell can mold a more formidable front wall.

Incidentally, Cirullo, like Beachell, is no stranger to PHS. He was starting tailback on the 1966 PHS eleven. Later, at the University of Tennessee, his alma mater, he played category.

Four juniors vying for the position are Chris Grazel, Ray Richards, Steve Stone and David Donahoe. Grazel has the edge on his height, about 6'8, and past performance.

Still another possibility that Wood is considering is using tailback Lou John Rossi at end when the team runs from a single wing. "He can block better than the rest and I'd like to keep him in the game as much as I can. He can catch, too," Wood added.

Tackles: Heading any list are veterans Dave O'Brien and John Drummond. O'Brien, 6'4, 212, played mostly defense last year but Wood reports he will go both ways this fall.

He has the size and ability to be one of the area's top tackles.

Drummond started the last four games in 1969, has attended football camps the past two years and is one of best conditioned players on the team. A starter, he is 6'2, 155.

Wood reported that two senior aspirants, Joel Arrington and Jeff Bullentin, have good size as far as height goes. Both lack experience.

Among junior candidates are Peter Foltyn, Doug Haring and Mike Wehren, but it is Tony Federico that Wood is especially high on. "He's got size and desire — he played really good ball as a sophomore."

ed a year of football before being sidelined with injuries. Of 13 returning lettermen, seven are line men: John Drummond, Isaac Menashe, Phil Molner, John Schumacker, Larry Ritchey, Chris Latham and Dave O'Brien. O'Brien together with fullback Lawrence Parker and tailback Lou John Rossi are co-captains of the team.

Following are the candidates for ends, tackles and guards.

Ends: Gone are Tim Taggart, John Willard and Mike Tomlinson, who occupied the position most of the time last year. One letterman who is returning is Chris Latham. At 5'11, 155 he is not exceptionally tall or strong but Wood feels that he can block well and is a good receiver.

Daryl Boone, used sparingly last year, has the size (6'1) and the speed (he's a member of the track team) but needs to improve his catching if he hopes to bump Gib Weisbecker, who is smaller but "can really catch that ball," says Wood.

Brendon Leyton, who got a lot of experience at end last season on the jayvee team, is another strong senior contender. "He's got a place at end offensively or defensively. I don't know where yet," commented Wood. He placed senior Tim Cook in the same

Guards: Returning Letter men issue Menashe 5 10, 178 and Larry Ritchey, 6 0, 155, will be pushed by Scott Bierman and Phil Sullner. "All look pretty good," Wood added.

John Hulitt has the size and the shot. What he lacks Wood intimated, is desire.

Jumpers listed on the pre-season tour for guard include James LaBar, Scott Ardielen, Bart Hines and Randy Green, with the latter pair having the most amount of breaking in the lineup.

Center The weak link "It's the weakest spot of any Wood commented.

John Schumaker who earned a letter as a junior did so mainly as a defensive line backer, although he was the number two center behind the graduated Tom Ford Wood reported, however, that John had a slight case of amnesia during the summer and "I don't know how effective he'll be."

To compound his problems, Wood has no one in reserve. Tom Wila, who would have done a good job there, has left school. "I might have to wind up taking anyone who can center the ball," he said.

Three who played other positions last year whom Wood will try to convert to center are Allen Fitzpatrick, John Yeoman and Jack Seely.

"With the exception of center, I think we have a good front row. LaBar, Drummond, O'Brien, Menashe, Ritchey, Wessbecker, that we can back up pretty well, summed up Wood.

The Defense: Uneven in its performance last year, the defense with Beached having a year of experience under his belt, should be better organized and better prepared, said Wood.

"Our defensive ends are not as strong as they should be (Boone, Wessbecker, Hulitt, Cook, Ross) and I'm not quite sure about our three deep backs," he said, "but our guards, tackles and line backers are in good shape." Wood admitted he was a little apprehensive about the size of his defensive backs. They're short, he acknowledged, for pass protection "but you can overcome that by being in the right place."

Almost sure to start as defensive backs are Ritchie LaBar, Mark Cuomo, both veterans, and Brendon Leyton. Others are Eddie Vernon, Phil White, Mitch Scheuch and Jim McGowan. Linebackers will be John Hodges and Lawrence Parker backed up by Ritchey and Schumaker.

One who will play only defense and probably at end is Junior Artie Hines. Tony Frederico may end up as a defensive guard. "He'll have to play somewhere," he's just that good," said Joe McGuinn, another with raw talent who may break in as a defensive back. He has more height than the others.

ALLAIRE, CHACE WIN in Springdale Gull. A pair of 2nd 1 victories last week and won the Governors' Cup for Ralph Allaire and Dean Chace at Springdale Gull Club. The same tournament had been won by this pair two years ago.

In the semi-finals on Saturday, Allaire and Chace eliminated Bill Pearce and Ralph Mather. In Sunday's final round, they defeated Bob Clancy and Fred Gallagher. Gallagher and Clancy reached the finals by defeating Paul Zeller and Morris Mayers, also by 2 and 1.

Four Going to Scotland: Three members of Springdale and the club pro Jim Hultgren will fly to Scotland Saturday to take part in a three day pro-am tournament.

Hultgren will play with Kline Palmer, Otto Nelson and Harry Volvander against similar outsiders from the U.S. and Canada. The tournament will be held next Thursday, Friday and Saturday over three of the world's best-known courses, St. Andrews, Gleneagles and Carnoustie, with each foursome playing a different course each day.

PAIL SAILING STARTS
Kaur, Rogers, O'Donnell Win. Twenty-two boats from three separate fleets raced Sunday as the Carnegie Sailing Club began its fall program. Winds were generally light and southerly.

Jack Kaur won from a dozen other Sailfish entries, compiling 43.4 points, followed by Walt Gibson, 32.1, and Bob Holzman, 36.7. The first three places in the sloop class went to Bill Rogers, Jim McPherson and Tom Huntington.

In the Penguin class, Bill O'Donnell was the winner, with Ed Metcalf second. Carnegie Club members will race again Sunday, starting at 2, with newcomers welcome.

GLOUCEVITCH VICTOR
In Tennis Tournament Here. Michel Gloucevitch won the 16 and under division in a tennis tournament sponsored by the Princeton Recreation Department and YMCA last week when he defeated Chris Lillie in the finals, 6-4, 6-0.

The 12 and under portion of the tournament will begin Monday. Entries may be sent to the Recreation Department at Township Hall or to Liz Jarecki, 31 Brandyapple Drive.

In his semi-final match, Gloucevitch defeated Bill Schmidt, 6-2, 6-1. Lillie upset top seeded Steve Tolbolsky, 6-3, 6-3.

In the girls 16 and under final round, top seed Randy Gulick dropped Robin Stewart, 6-1, 7-6. The sudden death scoring system (the first player to score five of nine possible points) was used to decide the second set.

In the semi, Randy defeated Dominique Van De Walle, 6-2, 6-1, and Robin defeated Cindy Gurdy, 6-3, 6-1.

"I don't want an imported car.
I want a Volkswagen."

But a Volkswagen is an imported car. Isn't it?

Sure it is. Just like coffee is an imported drink. So it's no surprise to find 3 1/2 million Volkswagens buzzing around the States.

Isn't that odd for a Lunny-looking car with a funny-sounding name?

No. Not when you know how we take care of them and sell them.

To begin with, service always came before sales with us. It still does.

We've always worked every bit as hard to improve VW service as we have to improve the VW itself.

So when you bring your VW in for service, drive up to the front door, please.

You can sit in our spic-and-span waiting rooms, have a cup of imported coffee and not walk out broken in mind, spirit and checkbook.

One big reason for this is that while we always make VWs better and better, we don't always make them different and different.

So those 3 1/2 million VWs have a lot in common: most VW parts still fit most VWs.

It is actually easier (and cheaper) to get parts for a Volkswagen than for many domestic cars on the road today.

It is also easier to get a whole VW. $1839* does it. Lots of cars just come and go. VWs just go and go.

Club, Dolci's and Merry Go Round Bar. The opening game in Princeton Pitts Center Sports against Mall Tavern at Community Park. Other contests are Ivy Inn vs. Merry Go Round Bar at Lawrence High School; Harrison Athletic Club vs. Dolci's at St. Anthony High School; Monarchs vs. Perilli's at Notre Dame High School and Ewing Giants vs. Joe & Lena's at Buttonwood.

TIGERS TAKE SHAPE

But inexperience is marked. With ten days to go before the Princeton football team opens its 1970 season against Rutgers, the personnel of the two platoons which will start against the Scarlet is beginning to be clearly defined. While it has a satisfactory degree of potential, its primary characteristic is inexperience.

Only four seniors, for example, are currently scheduled to hold down starting places on defense. Six are listed for regular duty on offense but only one of the backfield quartet has two years of varsity experience behind him and it is possible that the Tigers may start their first sophomore quarterback in more than a decade.

Attrition at Tackle. To complicate the picture further, the interior line has suffered an other setback. The highly promising sophomore, 225-lb. Jeff Bartosiewicz, suffered a fractured ankle at Blairstown and will wear a cast for the next two months. Needless to say, he is out for the season.

His loss compounds the problem in offensive tackle, inasmuch as two seniors, John Rogge and Dave Dirks, had already given up the sport in their final years. Bartosiewicz had been figured to replace one of them as a possible starter.

BIG MAN UP FRONT: Sophomore Carl Barsch has won a starting position on the 1970 Princeton football team as a defensive tackle. He stands 6-4, weighs 245.

The probable starters at tackle are Dick Williamson, a 211-lb. Bill Brown. Rounding out the senior who won a letter in 1968 but was out last year with Steve Saner and 200-lb. Emil Deliere at guards, with the veteran Kirk Liddell, a 210-lb. senior, at center.

If there is little or no experience at tackle, there is reason for optimism over Saner and Deliere. The former has great potential but has been slowed by injuries for both of the past two seasons, while Deliere a junior has been most impressive so far. Liddell is a proven and valuable factor over the ball.

Strength at Ends. Despite the loss of two line players at end, the graduated Rod Bardsley and Mark Birs, Princeton does not figure to lose in quality there this fall. Pete Hauk, moved from flanker back in one of the major personnel switches at Blairstown, has been a standout at split end, while Chris Montgomery, another senior, will give a fine account of himself at tight end. Swept by the spot, Hank Bjorklund and sophomore Bill Doug Blake, a 196-lb. junior, has likewise shown well in the pre season scrimmages, and is expected to be the starting full back. A classmate, 190-lb. Gary Shapiro, had added depth to the backfield with a good showing as his immediate replacement.

The veteran Brian McCullough, fully recovered from a shoulder injury and operation last fall, will start at flanker back, with sophomore Larry Chollet in reserve. While at least half the Ivy League teams are claiming an outstanding pair of halfbacks in 1970, the general opinion around here is that the combination of Bjorklund and McCullough is at least the equal of any other pair.

Defensive Tackles Green, Too. A big, untied sophomore and a junior who was little used in a reserve capacity last fall will be assigned the key tackle roles on the defensive platoon. One is 245-lb. Carl Barish, who was a top lineman for the unbeaten freshmen a year ago, the other is 225-lb. John O'Donovan. Between them they have the unenviable task of succeeding Bob Hevis and Tom Hutchinson, as good a pair of tackles as the Tigers had during the past decade.

Left end is well cared for by Steve Sikora, who started all nine games last fall as a sophomore, while junior Norm Townsend has a thin edge at right end over a promising sophomore, Steve Hausman. Rounding out the front five will be Phil Barbaccia, a letterman at the end of his sophomore year in '69. He will be spelled at middle guard by last fall's freshman captain, Joe Parsons.

The linchpins are as solid a pair as the Tigers could hope for. Captain Dennis Burns and junior Pete Boyle, who developed so rapidly last fall. It will be their job to backstop Barbaccia and O'Donovan while the latter are learning.

Barbaccia's ability to hold down the starting job at middle guard frees the veteran Art Elise, a versatile senior, for one of the jobs at corner back. He will pair with senior Jeff Elise, while the safeties will be senior Bruce Corcoran and junior Bob Wolfe. There is a good depth at most of these positions as potential at Blair's own has revealed playing a hilly, but as is the case in so many positions, game experience is lacking and it may be costly to absorb it against such early opponents as Rutgers and Dartmouth.

The Tigers head for Kingston (Rhode Island, not New Jersey) this Thursday, where they will oppose Rhode Island University Friday morning in a scrimmage. Expectations are that another scrimmage, originally scheduled here against Wilkes College, will be cancelled. It had been planned to give as many players as possible some experience by arranging practice sessions with two opponents, but as the squad has grown smaller and incurred a variety of minor injuries, it appeared unlikely that the session with Wilkes would be held.

Rutgers, meanwhile, gets a valuable game under its belt Saturday against Lafayette. The early spring practice gives the Scarlet a major advantage, but the Tigers are likely to have to live with it for a scorable future. Neither permission to book a tenth game nor a return to spring drills are in the picture.

IN SEARCH OF VICTORIES: Three big reasons why the Princeton Day School football team hopes to rebound to a winning season this fall are (from left) Dave Claghorn, Terry Booth, and Carl Jacobelli, the team's tri-captain. All three in their fourth year of varsity ball will see plenty of action on both offense and defense.

NO PLACE TO GO BUT UP

For Princeton Day Football: If there is anything good about a winless season, it's that the following year there is no pressure to equal or surpass last year's successes. For the Princeton Day School football team this fall, there is no place to go but up.

Entering the Penn Jersey conference for the first time last fall, the Panthers dropped all eight contests. Coupled with the loss in their last game of the 1968 season, the team has lost nine straight.

With a break here or there, it might not have been as disastrous a fall as it was. The Panthers lost three games by a total of nine points. However, in others, they were never really in the ball game.

The small size of the team, several injuries and an offense that never really got rolling all contributed to the decline, after a finish at the 300 mark in year before. One victory will produce a better season, but early indications are the Panthers have the manpower to capture a few more.

Bigger Boys This Year. One of the Blue and White's consistent problems since it entered varsity competition in 1967 has been the size of its offensive and defensive lines. While it still gives away a few pounds to some opponents, this year's line is bigger than last.

Another plus is the amount of experience possessed by this year's squad in comparison with others. Nine lettermen with others. Nine lettermen, the most by any school in the football history, form the nucleus of the 25 candidates who began two day practices September 1.

The backfield is blessed with plenty of speed and some experience. Pete McCandless, a 168 pound junior letterman, has moved into the starting quarterback slot this year. From tight end. He saw limited duty at the helm last year, but has the potential to develop into a fine passer, the weakest part of PDS's attack last year. Dave Claghorn, one of the tri-captains, is set at one running back. He'll work mostly on the inside slants, while the fleet Kirk Moore, the fastest man on the squad, will be a threat to the outside.

Booth Moves to End. Another tri-captain, Terry Booth, has been switched to tight end from fullback. Senior letterman Tony Dale will be the team's wide receiver.

At 265 pounds, Carl Jacobelli, the third tri-captain, will fill a big hole in the line at tackle on both offense and defense. Steve Zudnak, another letterman, will also play both ways on the line, as will John Kalpin, the other junior letterman besides Moore.

ed tackle last season as a sophomore and has the inside tackle at center this year. He's a strong prospect for the defensive line. Paul Funk, a junior transfer from South Kent is working out as an offensive guard and at end on defense. Another transfer, Bob Gips from Highland Park, Ill., has just begun workouts.

Sophomore Roger Williams has developed quickly at tackle, giving added depth in the line, and Mike Hafitz, also a sophomore, is another candidate in the line. Backing up the defensive line will be Booth at one linebacker position, and Claghorn, Moore, Howard Vine and Tony Dale in the second ary.

Among the freshmen out for the first time are George Mayzell, who despite his 5'5" and 140-lb. size, shows real potential as a running back and cornerback. Andy Tomlinson is working out at end, John Boyd at wide receiver, Bill Brown is looking for a slot at center, and Sam Finnell at end.

So far the team is relatively free of injuries that have plagued PDS in the past. Anything that must be avoided. As usual depth is not one of the Panthers' strong points.

The team had no trouble whipping St. Bernards in a scrimmage last weekend, but will probably not meet an easier team the rest of the season. An upcoming scrimmage against Lawrence High School will provide a sterner test.

Coach Dan Barren, who will be assisted by line coach Graham Cragg this year, still has holes to fill in the defensive secondary and offensive tackle, before the opening contest Saturday, September 26, against Montclair away.

Looking down the schedule PDS will have uphill battles against Hun, Perkiomen and the George School, which has the Hancock brothers returning. Montclair should be more formidable, it has almost its whole team returning from last year, and will be playing PDS at home.

Pennington Prep, Academy of New Church (Bryn Athyn), and Wardlaw should be on an approximate par with the Blue and White, and Mitchell Prep is an unknown quantity.

BACH, MIDLAND WIN
In West Windsor Tennis, Pete Bach and Bernt Midland won the West Windsor Tennis Doubles Championship last week, defeating Cliff Crawford and Pat Summers by identical scores of 8-6.

In each set, service was held until the score was 6-all: The Bach-Midland team then broke through the 13th game and held its serve to win both sets. The match was a playoff, the victors having won the spring league title and Crawford Summers taking the summer championship.

WARD WINS HILLCLIMB
On Cherry Hill Road, A mixed-class hillclimb of 660 yards on Cherry Hill Road last week was won by 16-year-old Keith Ward of Pennington. His time in the climb, sponsored by the Century Road Club, was one minute, 34 seconds.

In second place, six seconds back, was Princeton's Reti Campbell. Tom Lederer of Princeton University (1:43) was third and Jay Caras, a PHS student, was fourth, with a 1:45 clocking. Others in order of finish were Dan Hawley, Chuck Goehring, Leigh Goehr

"Bushnell Cup" Established

A cup honoring Asa S. Bushnell, for 32 years commissioner of the Eastern College Athletic Conference until his retirement last July, will be presented annually to the outstanding football player in the Ivy League.

Named in honor of the long time Princeton resident, the cup will be awarded on a basis of "sportsmanship, leadership, competitive spirit, contribution to the team and accomplishments on the field." Voting will be done by the eight coaches of member teams.

Bushnell was the original commissioner of the ECAC, largest college conference in the country. Graduate manager of athletics here from 1924 to 1938, he was cited at the time of his retirement for "his great contributions to the advancement of college athletics."

BOWLING NOTES

Leagues Resume Play. Four leagues resumed play last week at the Princeton Recreation Lanes on Nassau Street, following a summer layoff.

In the A League, a final 254 by Craig Donaldson of Griggs Corner Station — highest game of the new season — earned him a 624 series. His first game was, a 201.

Joe Procaccini of Staats Electric rolled 207/225, while Bob Sculerati had 224 and Bob Cifelli, 220. Others: Bill Murphy, 204; Tony Cifelli, 200 and Ed Duncan, 201.

Tied for first place with six points each are Ivy Inn, Staats Electric and Rialto Barber Shop — the latter two newcomers to the league. Tamasi Plumbing, Griggs Corner and Baletstrieri all have four points. Two other newcomers which failed to win a game in their first matches are Carters and Sherwin Williams.

Two newcomers are at opposite ends in the Nassau League: West and Augustine has the lead after one week with six points, while Hunkinson's is last with no points. Five tied for second place with four points each are Tiger Garage, Grover Lumber, Kingston Wine & Liquor, Hill Climbers and Howe Insurance.

Mini-Grants Go to Two Princeton Teachers

Two Princeton teachers are among the 112 selected from throughout New Jersey to receive state "mini-grants" for innovative teaching projects. One of the Princeton grants will send Middle School pupils out into the community on a work-study program. The other will bring Rider College education majors into Princeton to work on math instruction.

Work Study. Mrs. Sharon Powell has received a grant of $994 for her Middle School project. All 100 boys and girls in her multiple Middle School "house" will spend three hours a week with professional people in the Princeton Community.

These sixth-seventh eighth graders will work in a private visional photographer's studio, a veterinarian hospital, at RCA, at a local laboratory and at various other spots around town and with Mrs. Powell.

As Mrs. Powell explains it, the project has three dimensions. It will give the pupils tasks to do which have a visible benefit to the community and it will increase their motivation by showing them the relationship between the community and the school.

Mrs. Powell's allotment will be used for transportation and instructional materials.

Math Instruction. Miss Mary Jane Schomp, at Littlebrook School, has invited ten Rider College students to come twice a week to two of her fifth grade math classes. The Rider students are education majors who are specializing in math teaching and they will bring a mathematics professor with them from Rider to observe their work in the Littlebrook "laboratory."

Her grant of $1,900 — the maximum amount given for the mini — will be used for buying math supplies including manipulatives, math games, woodworking supplies, and in the use of measurement projects and so on.

George S. Gilbert, Harris Road, Princeton Junction, waived a preliminary hearing before Judge Tamm and is held for a Grand Jury. He has been charged by Detective Timothy Huzzing of the Borough police with two counts of breaking and entering and of being under the influence of a narcotic drug.

MANY ROLES FILLED

By Study Center Aids. The Princeton Study Center is turning up for the new school year, and the call is out for volunteers.

Absolutely essential qualifications are only an interest in people and education, and a little free time. Center leaders say. Veteran tutors will share their experiences with newcomers.

The program has many facets: tutoring students grades 8 to 12 at Community Park School or at Princeton High School one afternoon or evening a week; serving at the special Study Center desk at the Public Library, which is staffed from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday; supervising PHS students working with elementary school children; and assisting adults in mastering English, or passing High School Equivalency examinations.

Arrangements to hold tutoring sessions at Princeton High School during school hours are an innovation this year. While most of the tutoring is remedial, Dr. Frank Soda, dean of the PHS faculty, sees the tutoring program as a wide-open opportunity to enrich school programs in many ways. The ground work for a workshop to explore the psychology of learning, to be coordinated by a Study Center volunteer with the help of faculty advisors, has begun.

The Study Center's new president, Mrs. Dane Grove, is taking office with a firm commitment to the programs that have proved successful and also seemingly boundless energy in exploring the new.

Mrs. Kate Litvak, the volunteer in charge of tutoring, will make a special effort to seek out students who have — Continued On Page 38

Dr. Thomas E. Dighy, whose appointment to the Medical and Dental Staff at Princeton Hospital was announced last week, TOPICS on September 3, also continues private practice in Hightstown in association with Dr. Rebecca Nutter.

The staff appointment permits Dr. Dighy to admit and attend patients in the Hospital.

BUSINESS In Princeton

EARNINGS DOWN SHARPLY
At Applied Logic, Applied Logic Corporation has announced a considerable decrease in revenues from its previous two quarters during its third quarter, which ended June 30. The firm attributed the decline to the economic conditions in the economy, in particular as it has affected the computer service industry.

The balance sheet for the nine month period showed revenues of $2,100,122, matched against losses of $3,839,599 or $1.83 a share.

The results indicated above reflect certain changes in accounting practices, including the expensing in the third quarter of items previously capitalized. These adjustments amounted to approximately $1,700,000.

The company further announced that a financing agreement has been executed initiating a program to resolve the corporation's immediate cash needs. Parties to this agreement are the lessors of its computer equipment and the banks to which the company is presently indebted. With this program in place, the company expects to have a sound basis for future corporate growth.

Major features of the program are a moratorium for the next twelve months on leave payments to the computer lessors aggregating approximately $2,000,000 and additional bank loans. In consideration thereof, the parties will receive warrants to purchase up to 400,000 shares of the corporation's common stock at $0.50 per share.

Furthermore, a private placement of up to $500,000 of notes convertible into common stock at $0.50 per share is being concluded. There are currently 2,274,472 shares issued including 239,000 in treasury, with a total of $ million shares authorized.

NEW STUDY BEGINS

At Chatham Church, "Man the Culture Builder" is the title of a new study series for children ages 10 and 11 to be introduced this Sunday at the Unitarian Church. It is designed to help children understand and appreciate the diversity of cultures within the human community.

The multi-media method of "teaching by discovery" draws upon records, slides, resource books and other materials. "By studying a culture far less complex than the technological one in which we live," the class an announcement states, "children come to understand some of the factors which influence cultural development and to recognize kinship systems, social organization, rites of passage, ceremonies and rituals as collective expressions of a people's experience."

Three new studies were successfully introduced at the church school last year: "Decision Making," planned to help children come to grips with the complex choices they face daily and the even more complicated decisions they will have to make in the future; "Man the Meaning Maker," leading children to an appreciation of the individual worth of every human being, and "Freedom and Responsibility," designed to help children develop an appreciation of the responsibilities implicit in freedom.

All have been developed through Unitarian Universalist Curriculum Development Program.

"The Company That Cares About You"

189 Constitution Drive

Apptly appointed one and one third acres, this ten-room Colonial with its terrace pool and patio is a noteworthy new listing. The room-size, slate-floored entrance foyer affords access to an opulent step-down living room with decorous white marble faced fireplace and French doors opening to terrace. The gracious and commodious dining room doors also open to the terrace. The casual den, which is near the front entrance has a small fireplace which emits traditional warmth and conviviality; the "Queen-Size" kitchen has abundant storage and adjoining bright breakfast area.

The upper floor is served by main and auxiliary stairs and contains five bedrooms and three baths; master bedroom suite is separate and has a fireplace. Not to be overlooked is the paneled game room, also with a fireplace; the room-size cedar closet; and the Sylvan Pool which is in the rear court.

You should see it now (soon may be too late).
